ALMEDA SMELTER CEASES OPERATION

(Grants Pass Courier.)

Receiver Burley of the Almeda was in the city Wednesday, having just returned from the mine, where he has been for some time studying conditions. Mr. Burley says that after operating the smelter since August 21, the date of the receivership, he has come to the definite conclusion that it is impossible to operate the smelter with any margin of profit, as it is only by the strictest economy that it can be made to more than pay the running expenses.

Mr. Burley has closed down the smelter, but has left Superintendent John Ross and a crew of men at the mine making tests which will be necessary before any decision is reached as to the type of concentrators needed. These tests will require probably sixty days and Mr. Burley says he will announce through the columns of the Courier the results of his investigation and what he considers necessary to be done for the best interests of the company. Since operating the mine the receiver has found that it is a bigger property than he had any idea, and, like Mr. Ross, is of the opinion that the ore is 20 per cent smelting and 70 per cent concentrating.

Since August 21 the smelter has put out about $14,000 worth of metal, but it was only by the strictest economy that it showed a small margin of profit. The tons of leadings had been reduced something over 70 per cent by the use of automobile truck, which hauled matte from the smelter to the railway station at Merlin, a distance of seventeen miles. This reduced the expense from $16 per ton as previously paid when four-horse teams were used, to $2.60 per ton.

Mr. Burley is more than satisfied with the value of the property, but he considers it absolutely necessary to install a concentrator to be used in connection with the present smelter.

LOW CHURCHMEN WIN A VICTORY

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Though no definite information was available it was learned that the house of bishops of the Episcopal church here has refused to change the manner of selecting an American primate.

The presiding bishop at present holds his rank by right of seniority.

The change contemplated a choice by vote in the house of bishops, subject to confirmation by the house of deputies.

The decision was a victory for the low churchmen but it was thought that some high church bishop may yet re-introduce the proposition.

The proposition to prohibit changes in the title page or revision of the prayerbook without a two-thirds vote must be ratified by both houses at the next convention before becoming effective.

AMOUNT MUST ACCOUNT FOR GOLDEN DRIFT COIN

Judgment for plaintiff stockholders has been rendered by Judge Culkins in the Josephine circuit court in the celebrated case of the Golden Drift Mining company vs. C. W. Ament, the original promoter of the enterprise. This is a suit which has been pending since 1909, and is familiarly known as the "Ament dam" litigation.

Originally a mining scheme, it later developed into a plan involving irrigation features, as well as affording water for mining purposes. The decision practically compels Ament to account for money received in behalf of the mining corporation. The Golden Drift Mining company was originally capitalized at $1,500,000, of which $150,000 has been expended on the dam project.

WEDDING BELLS

Frank Dodge of Ashland and Miss Rena Wilson of Talent were united in marriage by Rev. Mr. Reames at Talent Tuesday afternoon, October 14. The couple will make their home in Ashland.

To the strains of the Wedding March played by Irene Norris, Miss Olive Juratsch was united in marriage to Martin Waschay at the home of Mrs. Ida May Norris last night. The rooms were beautifully decorated with wild Clematis and white roses. The wedding party consisting of the bride and groom and Mr. Harry Scholz, best man and Irene Norris, bridesmaid took their position beneath a bower of wild Clematis adorned by autumn leaves and beneath a wedding bell of white roses, where the wedding ceremony of the German Lutheran church was performed by the Rev. Conrad Wilker, using the beautiful ring ceremony.

After congratulations the wedding party partook of a bountiful wedding supper and toasts for a long and happy life was prepared and drank by all present in nature's own beverage. Many and beautiful were the wedding presents. Those present were the bride's father, Mr. Joseph Juratsch, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Norris, Irene M. Norris, Harry Scholz and Rev. Conrad Wilker. The young couple will be at home at North Riverside after October 26th.

The bride's home was formerly at Spokane, Wash., and the groom is one of Medford's most popular young business men.

OBITUARY

WAY—Rev. W. H. Way, former pastor of the M. E. church at Talent, died Monday, October 13, at the home of his brother in Lake Crystal, Minn. Mr. Way was taken ill a year ago and though a critical surgical operation was performed and he received the best of medical services he continued to fail, death coming as a relief to his suffering.

LOVELAND—J. Loveland, formerly of Ashland, was killed by the car at Thermal in Southern California. He was a dentist and for four years resided in Ashland. He left here about a year ago last May for Southern California.

THE CALL

"The Call," a special feature drama in two parts, which will be presented Friday and Saturday at the Iris Theater is a photoplay specially worthy of attention. Aroused by the discovery of his wife's unorthodoxy and his friend's duplicity, a man seeks to be revenged. In the accomplishment of his desire he uses a ventriloquist call that has formerly been used by his friend when calling at his house. The friend, who believes him to be dead, is terrified and falls a ready victim when the time comes for the final act of vengeance.

The revenge reappears upon its perpetrator, who dies from a revolver bullet, accidentally fired in the scuffle. "The Call" is a powerful drama, gripping throughout by its intensity and action and is well worthy of the favorable comments this play has received everywhere it has been presented.

Quality - e-conomy makes Schilling's Best coffee in aroma-tight cans at 40c a lb. cheaper than cheap coffees.

It may give a few more cups to the pound - that's nothing. It gives many times as much of that for which coffee is used: good feeling - which isn't measured in pints and quarts.

Drink water for thirst.
